POST-PUBLICATION AMENDMENT

The CBORD Group, Inc. (“Applicant”), having reached a settlement of the above-captioned proceeding with Opposer, ID Software LLC, hereby requests that the TTAB enter the following post-publication amendment:

1. Applicant’s current description of goods (all in International Class 009) reads as follows:

Smartphone mobile computer application for use in processing financial transactions, for purchasing goods and services, for verification of identity, eligibility, and authorization, for gaining access to restricted facilities, for monitoring alarms, for providing automated alarm responses, for performing electronic mass notifications, for monitoring surveillance video, for providing automated text message responses, for producing identification cards with photos, magnetic strips, and personalized, embedded smartcard credentials, for managing patron credentials, for reporting financial, verification, access, alarm, notification, surveillance, identification, and credential data related to the associated software, for importing and exporting data, and for managing campus conference groups, their identification cards, and their associated privileges.

2. Applicant requests that the description of goods (all in International Class 009) be amended to read as follows (additions in boldface italics):

Smartphone mobile computer application, excluding video games, software games, computer games, games for mobile phones, software engines for computer games, and computer game development software, for use in processing financial transactions, for purchasing goods and services, excluding video games, software games, computer games, games for mobile phones, software engines for computer games, and computer game development software, for verification of identity, eligibility, and authorization, for gaining access to restricted facilities, for monitoring alarms, for providing automated alarm responses, for performing electronic mass notifications, for monitoring surveillance video, for providing automated text message responses, for producing identification cards with photos, magnetic strips, and personalized, embedded smartcard credentials, for managing patron credentials, for reporting financial, verification, access, alarm, notification, surveillance, identification, and credential data related to the associated software, for importing and exporting data, and for managing campus conference groups, their identification cards, and their associated privileges.

3. This post-publication amendment does not add additional goods or services, or otherwise expand upon or augment the recitation of goods or services that previously has been published in the Official Gazette. This post-publication amendment includes limiting language that has the effect of restricting the recitation of goods or services that previously has been published in the Official Gazette. Accordingly, the amendment is permissible without re-publication.

4. Applicant requests that the TTAB enter the amendment as requested, and direct the Examining Attorneys office in the USPTO to reflect the entry of the amendment in the file wrapper for this case, and take such other, further, and different steps to reflect entry of the requested amendment.

WHEREFORE, Applicant requests that the application for Serial No. 85/757,324 be amended as requested in this post-publication amendment.
